Dear Charles—

The National Association of Independent Schools is pleased to support the Center for Curriculum Redesign, which is engaged in important conversation to reconsider and rethink K-12 curriculum for today's and tomorrow's schools. The success of our students will be reliant upon an education framed by the very pillars of 21st century education that the Center is espousing: knowledge, skills, character, and meta-learning. NAIS schools play a critical role in the K-12 sector, and we believe that learning and teaching will be strengthened by the work of the Center. We look forward to working with you.

Sincerely,

John E. Chubb
President
