Educating for Character

Linda Darling-Hammond
Stanford University
Challenges of 21st Century Teaching

• Greater Need for Education in Society
• Higher Standards for Learning
• More Diverse Students with Greater Educational Needs
• Greater Expectations of Schools for Ensuring Success
• Greater Social Needs for Humane Education
21ST-CENTURY SKILLS DEFINED

ATC21S started by internationally defining 21st-century skills as four broad categories.

WAYS OF THINKING
- Creativity and innovation
- Critical thinking, problem-solving, decision-making
- Learning to learn/metacognition (knowledge about cognitive processes)

TOOLS FOR WORKING
- Information literacy
- Information and communication technology (ICT) literacy

WAYS OF WORKING
- Communication
- Collaboration (teamwork)

WAYS OF LIVING IN THE WORLD
- Citizenship - local and global
- Life and career
- Personal and social responsibility — including cultural awareness and competence
Toward What Ends?

- Resolving conflict
- Sustaining the earth
- Sustaining people
  -- Employment
  -- Food and shelter
  -- Clean water
- Nurturing peaceful collaboration
- Developing new products, solutions, strategies for living and learning
For students -- and the earth -- to survive and succeed, we need to cultivate

- Personal responsibility and
- Social responsibility, developed through
- Mindfulness, Curiosity, Resilience,
- Ethics, Courage, and Leadership
Developing Caring

“For a person 18 years of age to graduate from high school without ever having had to do a piece of work on which somebody else truly depended; without ever having cared for, or even held, a baby; without ever having looked after someone who was old, ill, or lonely; or without ever having comforted or assisted another human being who really needed help. . . No society can long sustain itself unless its members have learned the sensitivities, motivations, and skills involved in assisting and caring for other human beings.”

(Urie Brofenbrenner)
Where are We? U.S. Data:

Across 148,000+ 6\textsuperscript{th} to 12\textsuperscript{th} graders,

- Only 29-45\% of the students reported they had social competencies such as empathy, decision-making, and conflict resolution skills.
- Only 29\% indicated that their school provided a caring, encouraging environment.
- 30\% of high school students engage in multiple high-risk behaviors such as substance abuse, sex, violence, and attempted suicide.

(Durlak et al., 2006)
What Kind of Schools Can Create these Abilities?
Social Emotional and Social Justice Learning

- El Puente Academy for Peace & Justice
  New York City
- Fenway High School
  Boston, Massachusetts
- International Studies Academy
  San Antonio, Texas
- East Palo Alto Academy
  East Palo Alto, California
Social & Emotional Learning Core Competencies

- Self-Management: Managing emotions and behaviors to achieve one's goals.
- Self-Awareness: Recognizing and understanding one's own emotions and abilities as well as own strengths and limitations.
- Social Awareness: Sharing understanding and empathy for others.
- Responsible Decision-Making: Making critical, constructive choices about personal and social behavior.
- Relationship Skills: Forming positive relationships, resolving issues, and dealing effectively with conflict.

Source: Center for Academic, Social, and Emotional Learning
Developing Character: From Social-Emotional Learning to Social Justice

Source: L. Darling-Hammond, SCOPE
“Adolescents need see themselves as part of a larger world that stretches beyond their neighborhood and community to the country and a larger world. Nurturing global consciousness requires that young people experience a caring environment, have opportunities to engage in decision-making and prosocial action, see prosocial behavior modeled by adults, develop skills such as perspective taking and conflict resolution, and have opportunities to confront injustice.”

(Lantieri, 2005)
Schoolwide Practices

- Training in Mindfulness and Self-Awareness
- Explicit Teaching for
  - Personal Responsibility
  - Social Responsibility
  - Empathy
  - Conflict Resolution
- Use of Restorative Justice
Habits of Mind and Heart

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Habit 1: Personal Responsibility</th>
<th>Habit 2: Social Responsibility</th>
<th>Habit 3: Critical and Creative Thinking</th>
<th>Habit 4: Application of Knowledge</th>
<th>Habit 5: Communication</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Be Present</td>
<td>Collaborate effectively</td>
<td>Ask Pose Problems</td>
<td>Understand Content</td>
<td>Communicate Key Ideas</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Show up with full attention</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Meet curriculum standards</td>
<td>Be clear &amp; persuasive</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Be Punctual</td>
<td>Interact respectfully</td>
<td>Predict Hypothesize Estimate Infer</td>
<td>Demonstrate Disciplinary Skills</td>
<td>Organize Thoughts</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Attend to expectations around time</td>
<td>Resolve conflict</td>
<td></td>
<td>Apply skills; mode of inquiry</td>
<td>Impose structure and create flow</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Prepare</td>
<td>Build Community</td>
<td>Investigate Gather and Organize Evidence</td>
<td>Revise Seek other perspectives Revise work</td>
<td>Present Ideas Orally and in Writing</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Think ahead, plan, and be ready</td>
<td>Foster healthy relationships</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Ensure audience understands</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Produce and Participate</td>
<td>Take Responsibility for Actions</td>
<td>Answer Analyze Synthesize Justify Imagine Create</td>
<td></td>
<td>Present Ideas Visually</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Complete work and engage in class discussion</td>
<td>Exhibit Honesty and Integrity</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td>Use graphic representations effectively</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Successful social-emotional learning programs:

- Teach how to apply social-emotional skills both in and out of school
- Build connections to school by creating caring and engaging learning environments
- Provide developmentally and culturally appropriate instruction
- Offer psychologically safe environments
- Address the cognitive, affective, and social dimensions of learning
- Encourage family and school partnerships
Curricular Practices

- Project-Based Learning / Exhibition
  -- Developing and Defending Ideas
    (Curiosity, Courage, Resilience)
  -- Culture of Revision and Redemption
    (Perseverance, Growth Mindset)
- Community Engagement/ Problem-Solving
  (Responsibility, Leadership)
- Community Service
  (Ethics, Responsibility)
Humanizing Pedagogy

Humanization is “the process of becoming more fully human as social, historical, thinking, communicating, transformative, creative persons who participate in and with the world.”

Educators must “listen to their students and build on their knowledge and experiences in order to engage in … personalized educational approaches that further the goals of humanization and transformation…” (Paulo Freire)
A Student Reflects on Social Responsibility

“EPAA made me realize that there's more to education than just knowing things, but that we should learn to have the ability of teaching others, to become aware of our surroundings, and to improve our life while making the world around us better.”
Developing Student Agency

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Dependent learners</th>
<th>Independent learners</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Rely heavily on the teacher</td>
<td>Are self-reliant</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cannot make decisions about their learning</td>
<td>Can make informed decisions about their learning</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Do not know their own strengths and weaknesses</td>
<td>Are aware of their strengths and weaknesses</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Do not connect classroom learning with the real world</td>
<td>Connect classroom learning with the real world</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Think that the teacher is wholly responsible for their learning</td>
<td>Take responsibility for their own learning</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Do not know the best way to learn something</td>
<td>Know about different strategies for learning (generally and personally)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Do not set learning goals.</td>
<td>Plan their learning and set goals.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Work only when extrinsic motivators such as grades or rewards are offered</td>
<td>Are intrinsically motivated by making progress in learning</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Do not reflect on how well they are learning and why</td>
<td>Often reflect on the learning process and their own progress</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Teaching for Student Agency

1. Create complex, authentic tasks worth doing
2. Plan for choice and inquiry
3. Connect tasks to authentic assessments
4. Build effective scaffolding that supports competence, confidence, and motivation
5. Support self- and peer-assessment and revision
6. Build reflection & extension into learning
7. Enable collaboration & peer learning
8. Develop social-emotional skills
9. Identify strengths, learning styles, and goals with students
10. Support student decision making, social responsibility, and leadership
Strategies to Support Professional Learning

- Collaborative curriculum / assessment development
- Engagement in shared decision making
- Action research about the effects of teaching on student engagement and learning in all domains
- Case studies of students
- Shadowing
- Modeling of choice-based, well-scaffolded, authentic learning opportunities
Strategies to Support New Accountability

CORE Districts Accountability Structure
“We should say to each of them: Do you know what you are? You are a marvel. You are unique. In all the world there is no other child exactly like you. In the millions of years that have passed, there has never been a child like you... and when you grow up, can you then harm another who is, like you, a marvel? You must cherish one another. You must work -- we must all work -- to make this world worthy of its children.”

-- Pablo Casals